Chocomize Sends Bars to Barack Obama!

Posted On Dec 30, Posted by Hirerussians Category Chocomize Sends to Obama

Today we sent two chocolate bars to the President of the United States of America, Barack Obama. President Obama is a fellow alumnus from Columbia University, and we thought that he might enjoy his very own Chocomize chocolate bar (honestly who wouldn't enjoy one?)He's been a pretty busy guy this past year, what with getting elected, trying to pass an extensive health care bill, and winning the Nobel peace prize. We decided, therefore, that he could use something to cheer him up. Nothing would be better for that then a custom chocolate bar. It took a little research into his favorite foods, but eventually we decided on two bars that we think he'll like.
