Love and Chocolate

Posted On Mar 03, Posted by Hirerussians Category Uncategorized

Spring is a time of renewal and new beginnings. Believe it or not, spring is also the most popular wedding season. As couples take to wedding magazines to pick themes, decorations, color schemes, food, and flowers, why not add something creative to your reception - say, a custom chocolate bar?

With Chocomize, you can order a bar that fits your taste and suits your wedding theme. Perhaps you've chosen a black and white theme, and calla lilies are your flowers of choice. Your guests can indulge in a white chocolate bar with dark chocolate chips, blueberries, and lavender. Or perhaps - in the spirit of spring - your wedding is colorful. Your guests can enjoy a milk chocolate bar with jelly beans, cantaloupe melon dices, and crystallized rose petals.

Pick your favorite toppings:

Some couples have compromised on one bar, while others have divided the bars between the two and designed two different bars that suite the different tastes of each.

Design your box: Not only are the bars all you, but so is the presentation. You can customize our traditional Chocomize box with photos, the date of your wedding, or even a love poem.
Final touches: Personalize your bar even further by adding our labels made of edible icing sheet and edible ink. Choose words of love, the date of your wedding, or anything else. The label goes right or the bar and is completely edible.
Making your dream chocolate bar for your dream wedding is our mission.
If you would like to get a quote, please shoot us an email at weddings@chocomize.com. The price of each order largely depends on your toppings and the size of your order. If you're overwhelmed by the endless selection, check out our creation station to virtually see what your bar would look like, or get some inspiration from our where you will see suggestions other Chocomize enthusiasts have tried and loved.

Facebook page

-The Chocomize Team

Tags: Untagged